ABOUT PUNJAB

Punjab, a region known for its rich history and vibrant culture, holds a special place in the heart of India. Located in the northern part of the country, Punjab is renowned for its agricultural prowess, with vast fields of wheat and rice stretching across the landscape. The land of five rivers, Punjab derives its name from the Persian words "panj" and "aab," meaning "five waters," a nod to the five major rivers that flow through the region. The people of Punjab, known for their warmth and hospitality, take great pride in their traditional music, dance, and cuisine. The energetic beats of the dhol drum resonate through the air during lively Bhangra performances, captivating audiences with their infectious rhythm. Punjabi cuisine, with its hearty dishes like butter chicken, sarson da saag, and makki di roti, tantalizes taste buds with its bold flavors and aromatic spices.
